TERMS OF PAPER: THE DAILY BULLETIN will be furnished at SIX DOLLARS PER ANNUM, IN ADVANCE. THE TRI-WEEKLY BULLETIN will be published every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday morning, and supplied for $[illegible] per annum, payable in advance.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Latest from Richmond.

Telegraphed expressly for the Bulletin.]

RICHMOND, June 29.

The latest report from the lines represent that there was no fighting to-day up to 11 o'clock. Our army was then in line of battle and it was expected it would soon advance upon the enemy.

The anxiety [illegible] from the battle field is intense though the body is confident of a decisive victory.

The citizens are strictly excluded from the lines, and reliable information of the progress of events is difficult to be obtained.

SECOND DISPATCH.

RICHMOND, June 29.

Only a few brigades of the attacking column of the Confederate army were engaged this morning.

Magruder's and Huger's divisions were still held in reserve on the west side of the Chickahominy, where it is understood McClellan was preparing marching a large body of troops.

A renewal of the contest was expected this morning.

Two regiments of Gen. Magruder's division—the 7th and 8th Georgia,—suffered severely yesterday in attempting to take a battery near Seven Pines, defended by at least two brigades of Yankees. Col. Lamar, of the 8th, was wounded and taken prisoner, and Lieut. Col. White, of the 7th, was wounded in the neck. The casualties of the two regiments are about 200.

There seems to be no doubt that McClellan's communication with his source of supplies is effectually cut off.

THIRD DISPATCH.

RICHMOND, June 29.

The remnant of McClellan's army is now on this side of the Chickahominy and the bridges have been destroyed to prevent pursuit from the Confederates on the north.

It is reported here that McClellan is retreating towards James river, where his troops may embark in transports under the protection of his gun boats.

The latest reports from the lines give the above information and state that our army is pursuing the enemy and hope to capture [illegible] before [illegible].

Later from the West.

ANOTHER BRILLIANT ACHIEVE[illegible]

MEMPHIS

Telegraphed Expressly for the Bulletin.]

MOBILE, June 28.

A special dispatch to the Tribune, dated Grenada, June 27, says a courier from Gen. Villepigue's camp, who arrived to-night, reports that Jackson's Cavalry made a dash yesterday on the Memphis and Charleston railroad, burning the bridge eleven miles from Memphis, captured seventeen cars laden with Commissary and Quarter Masters stores and over forty officers connected with those departments.

TO MY FRIENDS.

This evening I leave for Richmond to attend to our sick and wounded. In my absence Dr. Williamson, of the Confederate States Navy, (who will be found at the Mansion House) has kindly promised to attend any of my friends who may need my services.

I take pleasure in recommending him to their confidence. C. J. FOX.

OF INDEPENDENT SKIRMISHERS.

Permission has been granted Capt. WM. LEE DAVIDSON to raise the above corps. General RANSOM desires such an organization attached to his Brigade.

Three Companies of the above description are more effective than one whole regiment of regulars. It is the same mode of warfare that was carried on in the revolution. Let us harass and annoy the enemy in the rear. One more appeal is made to old Mecklenburg and the surrounding Counties. The Conscription act requiring all men between 18 and 35 years of age, to enter the service, has passed the Confederate Congress. The last appeal is made to all within those ages to promptly respond to this call. Especially of our own dear county let it be said—"Many have done WELL, but THOU excellest them all." Organize immediately, elect your own officers, arm with shot guns and to the field.

KOOPMAN'S
Anti-Dysenteric & Anti-Dyspeptic
BITTERS.
PREPARED BY R. KOOPMAN.
CHARLOTTE, N. C.

THESE unrivalled Bitters possess peculiar curative properties in all Affections of the Bowels. They will be found effectual in the cure of Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, and all those painful and troublesome disorders arising from a derangement of the digestive organs and irregular action of the functions of the stomach and bowels. They will also be found a SAFE REMEDY FOR CHILLS AND FEVERS.

These Bitters are prepared from Roots brought from Germany, and for over a century have been found effectual in that country for the permanent cure of the diseases enumerated above. They contain no deleterious drugs, but are compounded entirely from roots, and are perfectly safe at all times.

A simple trial in all that is asked, as a cure will naturally follow, and that is the best certificate of their superiority over every other remedy for those particular diseases.

They are manufactured by R. Koopman, Charlotte, N. C., and for sale by

PROSPECTUS
STATE JOURNAL.

HAVING become the proprietor of the Democratic Press, I have merged that paper into the STATE JOURNAL, which will be published semi-Weekly and Weekly.

The STATE JOURNAL will advocate Democratic principles in the broadest sense, and will support and defend Democratic measures and their advocates as they are presented, and as occasion may require. In other essentials it will be my aim to make the paper, what its name denotes, a State Journal—renewing all sectional conflict, and working for the entire State and harmonious interests.

As soon as arrangements can be made, the whole paper shall be re-modeled and printed with new type, on good paper, and in a superior manner.

The Editorial department will be properly attended to in its various branches, and will speak for itself. Neither labor nor expense will be spared in the management of the paper.

The terms of the State Journal will be as follows:

Semi-Weekly, per annum	$4.00
Weekly	2.00

These terms will be inviolably adhered to. No name will be put upon the list without the money, and all papers will be discontinued at the expiration of the time for which they have been paid, unless the subscription be renewed. I am satisfied, from years of experience, that upon no other footing can any newspaper hope to succeed.

Advertisements of a proper character will be inserted at the following rates:

One square, first insertion	$1.00
Each subsequent insertion	50 cents.

A liberal deduction on these rates for yearly advertisers in the Semi-Weekly. In the Weekly still on the fall rates will be charged.

FORWARDING OFFICE
S. C. R. R. Co.
CHARLESTON, March 18, 1861.

THE South Carolina Railroad Company having determined to discontinue this department of the service, the undersigned, who has been the forwarding Agent of the Company for the last four or five years, has associated with him the Chief Clerk in the department, and, under the name of GANTT & STONY, will continue to RECEIVE and FORWARD such articles as may be consigned to his care. He trusts, by strict personal attention, to retain a very liberal share of the business of the department.

Parties are reminded that all goods now reaching this port from points beyond the Confederate States of America, must be entered at the Custom House, and that duties are payable on such as are not purchased on or before the 20th February last, and laden on shipboard on or before the 15th March instant, save such as are on the free list. It is therefore necessary that remittances be made to pay the duties where duties are payable, AND IN ALL CASES TO COVER THE EXPENSE OF CARTAGE FROM THE CUSTOM HOUSE STORE, WHERE THE GOODS ARE NOW LYING. Prompt compliance will prevent delays and expense, as all articles not entered and permitted to pass, as all articles not entered and permitted will be stored by the Custom House officers. The South Carolina Railroad Company will advance, as heretofore, the charges of freight, drayage and wharfage, but not the expenses connected with the Custom House.

Rates of charges for forwarding will be very moderate, and may be had on application to GANTT & STONY, to whom all business communications should be addressed.

The undersigned refers to the officers of the South Carolina Railroad Company, to the customers of the Forwarding Department, and to all merchants of standing in the city of Charleston, and respectfully solicits a liberal share of patronage.

PROSPECTUS
HILLSBOROUGH RECORDER, DEVOTED TO
POLITICS, AGRICULTURE, MISCELLANY, GENERAL NEWS.
PUBLISHED BY DENNIS HEARTT.
HILLSBOROUGH, N. C.

WITH the present volume the RECORDER commenced the fortieth year of its existence, the first number having been issued the 15th of February, 1820; during all which time we have labored to make our paper interesting and useful, and we hope that in these particulars we have not been altogether unsuccessful. It has been our wish to make the RECORDER a good Family Paper, devoted to Politics, Agriculture, Miscellany, General News, &c., with a view to the entertainment and improvement of the farmers and citizens of the circle in which it is distributed. Our Agricultural department we endeavor to fill with the best selections we can make from all sources, giving preference to such as will be of practical use to the farmer and cultivator; and in this particular we hope to make the RECORDER of value to those able to the agriculturist or any person[illegible] of a purely agricultural character. In our Miscellaneous department, we shall continue to [illegible] as we have always been, careful to select such articles as will have a tendency not only to amuse, but to improve the mind and heart. While we shall be thankful to receive well-written articles to adorn our columns, we are not so ambitious of originality as not to prefer selected matter of superior merit, to loosely-written and ill-digested articles, though ornamented at the top with the coveted words—"Written expressly for the HILLSBOROUGH RECORDER." In our News department we shall endeavor to present to our readers the latest intelligence; and to enable us to do so we have facilities equal to those enjoyed in any portion of the State, except those favored with telegraphic communication.

The Lines About Richm[illegible]—Heavy Engagements—the Enemy Falling Back.

From the Richmond Examiner of Thursday.

The splendid contest [illegible]hursday afternoon, which resulted in [illegible] wresting, by General A. P. Hill's di[illegible]n, of Mechanicsville, though without [illegible]sive results, except the possessing of [illegible] place served to attract the attention [illegible]cClellan from a movement in his rear [illegible]t overwhelmed him. There Hill's [illegible]sion of 12,000 men stood successfully, [illegible]posed to at least four times their numb[illegible] behind earth-works, which they, o[illegible] after another, evacuated, carrying off [illegible] guns, which, mounted on wheel carri[illegible], were not captured, as some of our [illegible]emporaries announced yesterday, thou[illegible] their positions were gained and held [illegible]any valuable lives were lost at Mech[illegible]rville. But they received immortality th[illegible].

At 3 o'clock yester[illegible] morning the grand coup de main of G[illegible]al T. J. Jackson was accomplished[illegible]th his army, which failed to get into [illegible]ition the previous evening, he fresh[illegible]n the fields of exploits in the Valley, [illegible]me down the Chickahominy on the [illegible] flank of McClellan's army, to C[illegible] Harbour, in the enemy's rear, and p[illegible]is front upon it at Old Church. The [illegible]emy had fallen back still further during the night, and Hill's and Longstreet's [illegible]sions pressed him in front and left flan[illegible]arly yesterday morning. Thus by a [illegible]egy unparalleled for its brilliancy, [illegible]McClellan circumvented. Up to this [illegible]iting we have no accounts of the batt[illegible] that has been progressing that would [illegible]ify particulars, but McClellan and his [illegible] army was reported retreating down [illegible]Chickahominy, bearing off from "Ston[illegible]'s" guns in the direction of West [illegible]nt, where the gunboats were lying r[illegible]dy to cover him.

It was six o'clock wh[illegible] the enemy gave way, after leaving their [illegible]twork battery of thirteen guns, which [illegible] their best, mounting heavy siege [illegible]s. McClellan retired, burning up his [illegible]s at the depots of his lines. From the [illegible] of the capital, in the square, shafts of [illegible] smoke could be seen rising in the [illegible]rection of Old Church and the White [illegible]ouse. At first this was thout to arise from the firing of cannon, that could [illegible]e heard from [illegible] the wind [illegible]being contrary, but later in the day it [illegible] ascertained to have been caused by the destruction, by the enemy, of his [illegible]e stores off to the right of the Mech[illegible]ville pike on the farm of Dr. Gaines.

The mutterings of [illegible]t could be occasionally heard, [illegible] the report of heavy guns, but it died [illegible]tirely away as the scene of the conflict [illegible]s removed by the retreat of the enemy [illegible]d the advance of the Confederate forces.

The retreat of Mc[illegible]n's army, and the pursuit of the Co[illegible]rate army, has moved our base of [illegible]tion concerning the fight, which, [illegible] was kept up at intervals with gr[illegible]ty; but, through the kindness of a [illegible] from our lines, we have been sup[illegible]h a very intelligent pencil diagram, [illegible]shing the positions of the retre[illegible] pursuing forces.

Jackson's army was [illegible]presented as moving down conc[illegible]this side of the Pamunkey for a[illegible] bridge spanning it at the railroad, with the intention of outstripping McClellan, whose forces were making for the same [illegible]e to secure it as a crossing before it w[illegible]eized or burnt by Jackson. Gen. Lon[illegible]et's, A. P. Hill's and D. H. Hill's div[illegible]s were pressing hard upon McClellan [illegible]r, while Magruder and Huger, on th[illegible]ickahominy, held our right wing in [illegible] direction of New Bridge with a portion [illegible]he enemy in front of them. This was [illegible]supposed situation of the armies up to y[illegible]rday afternoon.—As regards the battl[illegible] series of battles, that closed the event[illegible]day we have little that is reliable. Sc[illegible], of our loss and that of the enemy, [illegible]t has been heavy—that on the enemy's [illegible]de very great; but we will not venture [illegible]gures. It appears to be conceded that [illegible]enemy successfully withdrew their forces [illegible]m the position held by them on Thursd[illegible]ght, after the capture of Mechanicsvi[illegible]leaving behind, as a blind, some skir[illegible]ers and a battery, which, when charg[illegible]on by the advance yesterday morning [illegible]aylight, was found to be empty of men [illegible] guns. A pursuit of three hours brou[illegible] our forces upon a formidable battery [illegible] thirteen guns at Gaines' Mill, near [illegible] New Kent road.—Here occurred ou[illegible]eaviest loss. The breastworks were a[illegible]ed on a bluff, across a mill-dam, canal [illegible] swamp, with rifle pits in front. Our [illegible]ps charged through and over all [illegible]ur and determination that swept [illegible]thing, clearing rifle pits and batter[illegible]point of the bayonet. The troops that [illegible] the splendid act of gallantry we[illegible]orth Carolina—the brigade of G[illegible]. This was accomplished throu[illegible] volleys of musketry, shell, ro[illegible]grape and canister, that pied th[illegible] with the valorous dead and wo[illegible].

In the re[illegible]s of cavalry were thrown forw[illegible] Prospect road and the Tucker[illegible] to intercept them, but it failed [illegible]d. We hear it said that McClel[illegible]t was conducted in good order[illegible] the enemy carried forward all [illegible] and wounded. It was said few [illegible] were taken; however that may be, but few have arrived in Richmond. As far as our limited knowledge extends this moment, there is a very fortunate lack of general and commissioned officers killed.

We hear the light batteries suffered severely. Purcell's battery, of Richmond, Col. Lindsay Walker, went into the action of Thursday evening with above ninety men, and brought out only thirty or forty. Seventeen of their horses were killed.—The Maryland battery, Capt. Snowden Andrews, in the same battle lost five men killed and wounded, and several horses.—Doctor Hunter, of Maryland, the surgeon, was killed. The Chesapeake Artillery was ordered to join Gen. Longstreet's division on the right, and was not engaged.

We hear from the Appomattox river, near Petersburg, below Port Walthall, that fighting between some of the enemy's gunboats and our forces had commenced. The enemy had destroyed all the shipping at City Point. Several lives were lost.

LATER.—THE ACTION BECOMES GENERAL—THE SITUATION OF THE TWO ARMIES AT NIGHT.

We learn from Major John M. Daniel, of the General's staff, serving with Gen. Hill in these battles, and who, about 4 o'clock last evening, was obliged to leave the field in consequence of having had his arm shattered by a Minie ball, that at the time he left the field Hill's division, which had been engaged the whole day, and victorious throughout, was engaged in a terrific battle with the enemy near New Cool Harbour, and were overmatched by large masses of the enemy. Just as the Major was wounded several large bodies of troops appearing on the field, which were supposed to be reinforcements under Jackson.

Later accounts brought from the battle field are deeply interesting. The reinforcements that reached the field, and which were supposed to be under General Jackson, were troops of Gen. Longstreet's division. Gen. Jackson was engaged on Gen. Hill's left during the day, but was also in time to join in the general engagement which ensued about five o'clock in the evening.

At this hour the action became general for the first time on the Richmond lines. No such collision of numbers has yet occurred in the history of the war. It it is estimated that seventy-five thousand Confederate troops were engaged with an equal if not superior force of the enemy. The scenery of the battle field is described as awfully sublime, and its sights of carnage as exceeding ghastliness the worst imaginations of of tea horrors of war.

Nightfall has caused an intermission of the terrible conflict. From the best and most reliable information we can obtain, the field was undecided when the action was intermitted to be resumed this morning.

The field of the imposing battle, on which the grandest fortunes ever contested awaits decision, is about twelve miles from the city of Richmond.

The enemys retreat was certainly not a route, as it has been described on the street corners. He has left his ground at leisure, carrying of all his dead and wounded, leaving no marks of disorder on the route of his retreat but such as the incidental, of course, to the movements of such large masses.

There is occasion to apprehend that McClellan is falling back on his present line of defence, has improved his position. The advantages of his present position are mainly artificial, but they are considered important and serious, although he gave up yesterday several positions of great natural advantage, especially that at Mechanicsville, upon which he had expended every resource to make it impregnable.

It is impossible to estimate the loss in yesterday's engagement. The only statements we can get of the casualties of the terrific battle of the evening are vague and ghastly messages that "the ground is covered with dead." The spirits of our troops are undiminished. There was no straggling but from excessive fatigue. The issue, which is yet undecided, is solemnly entrusted to the valour of our troops and the providence of Almighty God.

John Bull vs. Jonathan.

That miserably mean and mercenary old gouty Pirate known as John Bull, by extravagant cormorants, yeclept "raw beef eaters," has quite suddenly become indignant towards Jonathan as appears by a dispatch in another column reporting that St. Augustine is blockaded by one of Vic's Dug Outs and that one of Doodles gunboats has been captured by a liveried servant of the gouty "ould gintleman."

We of the South ought to be very indignant towards England on account of her contemptible and mercenary policy during the present war. We have got along without her thus far and by the blessing of God we can do without her in future, at least until our brave army has mauled sense into the old Doodle.

We ask for none of the sympathy of such a class of people. They have been serving wherever money could be made and even winked at enlistments of a low and degraded population whose principles are always regulated by pounds, shillings and pence, to help subjugate a people as far superior to themselves as Heaven must be to Hell.

They have helped in every way to subjugate the South, and we would rejoice to see inflicted upon them miserably mean hireling population of Eng land all the curses and ruin which God and his Satanic Majesty could concentrate and shower upon them.

Appeal to the Citizens of Charlotte.

At a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Charlotte, held this day, it was determined to take steps for erecting a Hospital for the temporary accommodation of the sick and wounded soldiers passing through the place; and as the means of the Town are limited, the Clerk of the Board was instructed to make publication informing the community that any donations which parties may find in their hearts to make in aid of this cause will be received by the Town Treasurer and appropriated in carrying out the object now contemplated.

CHARLOTTE, March 1, 1862.

Off for Richmond.

Four physicians, Drs. Miller, Jones, Fox, and Orr, with twelve other gentlemen, to act as nurses, left Charlotte yesterday to serve wherever needed in Richmond.

Seriously Wounded.

For the following private dispatch we are indebted to Maj. J. B. Kerr:

RICHMOND, June 29.

Wm. J. Kerr, of Charlotte, a member of Capt. Davidson's company, seventh regiment, N. C. T., has been seriously wounded in the left shoulder.

The Great Battle.

We publish from the Richmond Examiner, in another column, an interesting notice of the engagement before Richmond on Friday last.

Our dispatches are one day later, and although they do not indicate that the conflict is over they evidently warrant the belief that the Federal army has been routed and that the God of Battle has crowned our glorious warriors with a most brilliant success.

We give also some extracts which we find in the Raleigh Telegraph, (from a special correspondent,) touching our own brave North Carolina Troops. They are appended.

RICHMOND, Saturday, June 28.

All right. The First N. C. Regiment, suffered terribly on Thursday. Col. Stokes was badly wounded in the leg; Lieut. Col. McDowell, badly in the shoulder. Major Skinner was killed. Capt. Jas. Wright and Lieut. Grandy were killed, besides other company officers and a large number of men. They made one of the finest charges on record.

Gen. Branch's brigade behaved nobly.

Still Later from the Battle Field—Casualties—Prisoners, &c.

RICHMOND, June 28.

Col. Riddick, 34th N. C., wounded in the leg; Adjt. Riddick wounded severely; Major Hammerskold received a contusion. Gen. Pender led the 34th, after Col. Riddick fell, and got wounded slightly in the [illegible]

Col. Campbell is killed, also Duncan Haywood. Col. Haywood fought while he had a man left—he is safe.

Still Later.

Fifteen hundred prisoners have just been brought in. Captain William Blount, aid to Gen. Branch, is shot through the arm.

Col. James H. Lane.

We regret to learn (says the Petersburg Express,) that Col. James H. Lane, of the 28th North Carolina Regiment, was severely wounded in the battle of Chickahominy yesterday, and will probably loose an arm.

THE "BLOODY" SEVENTH.—Five hundred and forty-seven of the famous N. Y. 7th Regiment, have enlisted for three months, to be stationed at Baltimore. An order from Stanton, Lincoln's Secretary of War, prohibiting any of the men from visiting thir homes during the terms of enlistment, has produced wide spread dissatisfaction, and the curses on the Secretary are said to be loud and deep.

TO MY FRIENDS.

This evening I leave for Richmond to attend to our sick and wounded. In my absence Dr. Williamson, of the Confederate States Navy, (who will be found at the Mansion House) has kindly promised to attend any of my friends who may need my services.

I take pleasure in recommending him to their confidence. C. J. FOX.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

On the 8th day of July, (it being Tuesday of Union Court,) I will sell at public auction, at the Court House door, in the Town of Monroe, Union county, N. C., (if not sold privately before,) as Trustee for my brother, James Richards, who has joined the service, all that valuable property lying in the Town of Monroe known as the "Village Hotel;" also the house-hold and kitchen furniture, &c.

This is a very desirable property for any person wishing to keep a Hotel. It is located in the most business part of Town, and in front of the Court House. It has nearly 100 feet front, and runs to the rear 180 feet, on which is located the Hotel and all buildings required for such an establishment, with a good well of water in the yard. In the rear of the first, it has a second lot, on which is located the stables and garden adjoining.

The above can be bought privately before day of sale by applying to me or my brother.

For information apply to Mr. WILLIAM TARLOAR, Charlotte.

Terms made known on day of sale.
